What UNMC Delegates Have to Say

“I think the Delegates program is ideal in creating awareness of issues affecting UNMC’s expanding research funding and capabilities. UNMC is emerging as a leader in basic and clinical research. The Delegates program is an excellent way to ensure UNMC’s innovative research in areas ranging from cancer to nanomedicine to bioterrorism, continues to receive national support.”

– Kathy Campbell, Lincoln
  Chairperson, UNMC Board of Counselors

“UNMC’s ‘500-mile campus’ extends from Omaha to Scottsbluff, and the presence of UNMC is felt throughout the state. I am excited to be a part of this program as a way to support the institution that is benefiting Nebraskans in so many ways.”

– Hod Kosman, Scottsbluff

“I proudly extend my support to UNMC, the only public academic health science center in Nebraska, which has earned national recognition for providing exceptional health professional education programs. These programs are responsible for training more health professionals practicing in Nebraska than any other institution.”

– Dr. Gail Walling Yanney, Omaha
Advocating to further UNMC’s world-class status

UNMC Delegates are Nebraska residents and alumni – people like you – who advocate on behalf of UNMC to public policy makers, such as senators and representatives in the Nebraska State Legislature and U.S. Congress. By influencing public policy, you will seek to strengthen UNMC’s academic programs and support research in a way that benefits all Nebraska citizens.

Our delegates are leaders in their communities and they appreciate value.

• They know that UNMC provides important services to the people of Nebraska.
• They understand the value of our excellent health care education, world-class research and life-saving patient care.
• They know that UNMC is approaching $100 million in annual research funding, which has created over 2,400 jobs and has resulted in millions of dollars of new money flowing into Nebraska.
• They know that UNMC’s educational programs are responsible for training more health professionals practicing in Nebraska than any other institution.

Join other UNMC Delegates across the state and make your voice known on issues of great importance to the future of UNMC and Nebraska.
